DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

1 – A specific calcium-containing ceramic particle. The species are given in claims 25-30. A single disclosed species is required to be elected, or a combination of calcium-phosphates, calcium-sulfates and/or calcium-carbonates, where each member of the combination is specifically elected to give a complete and specific calcium-containing particle.

1A – If a calcium-phosphate particle is elected, the molar Ca/P relationship must be disclosed and the claims readable on the relationship identified.

1B – For any calcium-containing particle elected the following properties readable on the election must be identified:

- a) Pore size in claims 7 or 8
- b) Bulk density in claims 12 or 13
- c) Jarring density in claims 15 or 16
- d) Average diameter in claims 18-20 or a specific disclosed combination in claim 21

2 – A specific hydrogel or substance which can be swelled into a hydrogel consisting of the species in claims 36-39, 43

2A – For any hydrogel elected the following properties readable on the election must be identified:

- a) Water content in claims 44 or 45
- b) Molecular weight in claims 41, 42, 46, 47 or 48
- c) Weight relationship A/B in claims 51, 52, 53, 54, 55 or 56

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The common technical feature is not novel. The common technical feature is claim 1 comprising a non-spherical synthetic porous ceramic particle and a hydrogel. A common technical feature known in the art, as is the case here, cannot be a special technical feature. The prior art, e.g. DORIGATTI et al. (WO 93/20858 see PTO/SB/08) teach the use of hyaluronic acid in combination with artificial porous bone granules in a moldable paste to promote growth and repair of damaged bone tissue. See e.g. abstract, page 6 line 33 to page 7 line 3. While DORIGATTI does not explicitly state non-spherical shapes BEARCROFT et al. (WO 01/66044 see PTO-892) teaches a shaped particle that is non-spherical to repair a bone deficiency whereby the non-spherical shape facilitates interlocking of adjacent particles in a matrix of shaped particles. See e.g. page 8 lines 1-24. Therefore, the technical feature of the groups do not make a contribution over the prior art.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
